

COLLEGE OF SAINT MARY EXIT COUNSELING POLICY

Students who borrow federal Stafford loan while attending College of Saint Mary will be required to complete Stafford loan exit counseling if they graduate, withdraw from the institution, or drop below a half-time enrollment status (six credits).

The Financial Aid Office will notify the student via mail when exit counseling is needed. The letter to the student will include the purpose for the request as well as options for them to complete the exit counseling.

A hold will be placed on the student's account until this federal requirement is completed.

If the student graduates with one degree and then re-enrolls in at least six credit hours the next semester, the requirement is waived until the student withdraws from the institution or drops below half-time enrollment status.
