

MOL Graduate Testimonials

"The Master in Organizational Leadership program has greatly affected me in ways I never imagined. Not have I only grown professionally in my career, but I also have grown as a woman who has found courage in my ability to accomplish goals I never thought I could. I have gained a great deal of confidence since entering this program. I learned valuable resources and skills I can take into my career and even my personal life. I have realized the important issues in my life and have better directed where I want to be. I am striving more now to find the perfect career fit and not settle for what is right in front of me but to push and reach for those things I only dreamed about in the past. I have networked tremendously since entering in this program and found many great women with whom I have built long-lasting friendships."

"The Master in Organizational Leadership program has assisted with a new sense of confidence and authenticity, both personally and professionally. The program provided numerous assessments, assignments and projects to help me further identify what type of leader I am and what leadership skills I can further develop to maximize my abilities. The program provides a learning environment in which all students bond – inside and outside the classroom."

-Vicki, Class of '06

"This leadership program has helped me become more confident, allowing me to take on more responsibility and ultimately demonstrating that I was prepared for advancement, and in fact, I did rapidly advance in my organization. I am taken seriously and have the skills to reach my educational and career potential."

-Jenny, Class of '06

"The intense atmosphere and open class experience was more valuable than any other I have experienced. The course work was demanding, yet achievable. I am a more analytical/critical thinker."

-SuAnn, Class of '05

-Terrie, Class of '05

"By completing the CSM program, it allowed me to set specific career and personal goals; which included leaving the secure environment of my employer of 24 years and expanding my horizons into new territories. Also, the program helped me to better lead the employees to truly work in a team environment versus just being a group that was working together."

-Bev, Class of '05

This graduate-level experience at CSM has really helped with the unique perspective of being able to see things from the female view and has showed me how to compete in a "man's world" while still being a wife, mother, and grandmother. CSM has taught me also how to present myself so that my concepts or ideas are easier to understand and use. I used the same process we used for presenting in class projects to present my Leadership Development plan on 'New Hire Trainees' to the vice-presidents in my company.

"The safe environment and expectation of excellence that came from my classmates benefited me the most."
