Kinesiology Faculty

Are you a positive, energetic, competent, and caring professional looking to join excellent faculty dedicated to teaching? You might be a perfect fit for our anticipated Kinesiology position. The Assistant or Associate Professor of Kinesiology position is anticipated to begin January or August 2022.

Our Ideal Candidate Is Someone Who:

- Is a positive, energetic, competent, and caring professional who wants to join excellent faculty dedicated to teaching.
- Desires to serve students from diverse backgrounds.

Our Ideal Candidate's Education and Experience:

- Must possess an earned doctorate in Exercise Science, Kinesiology, or a closely-related discipline.
- Desired qualifications include experience in women's health-related wellness programming or health promotion research.
- Demonstrated leadership activities and certifications from ACSM, NSCA, or other related organization are preferred.

This Position Is Responsible For:

- Teaching 24 credit hours per academic year in the area of Kinesiology and Exercise Science.
- Conducting, publishing, and presenting research; providing academic advisement; supervising student internship experiences; and participating in curriculum development.

Why You Want to Be on This Team:

- You would be a part of a Mission-centered team, who work together to serve our community.
- You would enjoy full-time benefits including health insurance, paid time off, tuition remission programs, 403(b) with employer match, employee wellness time, and more!
- CSM is committed to supporting the work-life balance of its faculty and staff.

Application:

CSM is committed to building a diverse educational environment. During the application process, please be prepared to upload a letter of application, current curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy (including information on ways in which your inclusive pedagogy contributes to building and supporting diverse communities), and current contact information for three professional references.
