Physician Assistant (PA) Faculty

College of Saint Mary (CSM) is seeking an open-rank professor for the Master of Science in Physician Assistant Studies program. Successful applicants will be physician assistants with a master's degree or higher, hold current NCCPA certification, and have at least five years' experience in clinical practice. Join a team of faculty that is committed to teaching and providing learning experiences to students so that they may contribute to the profession. This position will be open until filled. Appointment date is Spring 2023.

Qualifications:

Applicant must be a physician assistant with a master's degree or higher from an accredited academic institution, have current NCCPA certification and licensed, or eligible for licensure, in the state of Nebraska. The applicant must value promoting diversity, inclusion and culturally resonant health care practices and services. Applicant must have five or more years of clinical experience.

Responsibilities:

This position will report to the PA Program Director and work collaboratively with PA Faculty who are responsible for developing and guiding the curriculum for PA students. This includes, but is not limited to, assisting with the development, content, implementation, and evaluation of the didactic curriculum; recruiting lecturers for didactic courses; prepare and deliver current content based upon ARC-PA standards and the NCCPA blueprint for PANCE; advise and evaluate PA students throughout the program; develop and maintain required documentation regarding student grades, remediation plans, academic issues, and other topics related to student education; participate in the admissions process. The position will also participate in the program's ongoing self-study, accreditation, and continuous improvement processes.

Application:

CSM is committed to building a diverse educational environment. During the application process, please be prepared to upload a letter of application, current curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy (including information on ways in which your inclusive pedagogy contributes to building and supporting diverse communities), and current contact information for three professional references.
